

MASSACHUSETTS FACES THE WHEN REPEAL FIGHT IS

LAW MUST ACT SPEEDILY IF STATES TO GET LIQUOR BACK

Regulations Now in Hopeless Tangle and Must Be Straightened Out or 32 Will Be the Strongest Brew Sold

The Noble Experiment will have been officially branded as the nation's big Moral Mistake by Dec. 10—or earlier.

By that date some 40 states will have voted for Repeal of the Prohibition Amendment according to present indications, and more than 36 Constitutional Conventions will have met.

Liquor will be back—so far as the fundamental law of the land is concerned. The United States will be wet once more.

ALL CONFUSION HERE
But how about Massachusetts?

Today the proverbial Philadelphia lawyer would be hard put to answer that question. The situation promises to be more confusing than was the return of beer—a day late in the Bay State—last April.

Gov. Ledyard began the last session of the General Court to be forwarded and set up proper regulations for liquor's return, but that body chose to ignore his exhortations and turned the matter over to an interim committee that is even now studying the problem on Beacon Hill.

Meanwhile, experts in administrative law are of the opinion that the only place that John C. Dean will be in a fix is in the state capital.

SWIFT ACTION NEEDED
The one hope that they see for the flowing bowl by Christmas is a swiftly acting special session of the Legislature. They are convinced that liquor cannot come back under present statutes. This despite the fact that the Daily Volanteer said it was repealed in 1932.

It is pointed out that Massachusetts would revert to the old liquor regulations embodied in Chapter 23 of the general laws. While this statute, roughly, provides for the sale of intoxicants under local option, lawyers say that it has been so encumbered with unneeded amendments that it is virtually inoperative.

But if it were effective, it would at once conflict with the new beer law because it prohibits the

Harvard Hails Sleep; 7 A.M. Bell Goes

Harvard students and faculty members who like that last morning turnover and snooze can have it now without being disturbed by the ancient "7 o'clock rising bell" in the Harvard Yard.

Effective today by an order of President Conant, the rising bell will henceforth be silent, the president's order following numerous complaints from occupants in the yard, particularly freshmen.

The rising bell has been a feature of Harvard life since 1760, when Harvard Hall was rebuilt, but in the old days it set up its clanging at 5:30 a. m. Later it was set up at 6 a. m., and in President Dunster's time it was further advanced to 7 o'clock. And there it stuck.

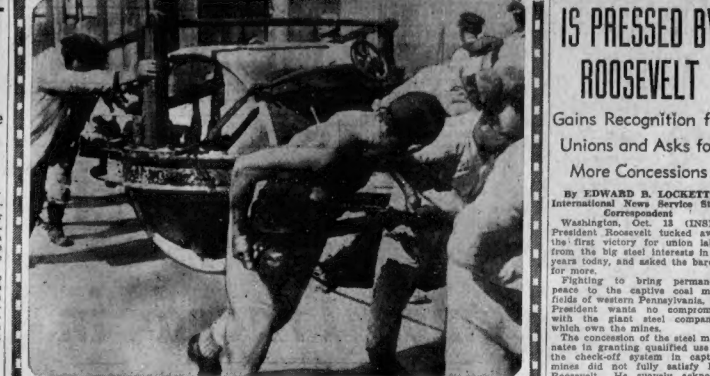

It is understood that President Conant, who does not attend morning chapel, as President Lowell did, was also disturbed by the rising bell.

AMHERST DEATH SUSPECT FLEES
Northampton, Oct. 12 (IN)—State detective and troopers from the Northampton barracks today reported that with the co-operation of New York police, last night they raided a house in Castleton, N. Y., searching for Edward Stanislawski, 20, wanted for questioning in the Amherst campus murder of Thomas L. Digina, 21, lunchroom companion.

When they entered the house, according to State Detective Albert M. Dwyer, Stanislawski fled out a rear window in his night clothing and escaped. Authorities are on his trail, Dwyer said.

Stanislawski, allegedly specifically wanted on a warrant charging robbery, was known to be a friend of Digina. The latter's body, he said, was found in Amherst. The case was nearby.

Hitlerites Drive -- Jews as Oxen

Like the Jews of old Egypt the German followers of the ancient faith are used as beasts of burden. The Nazis confess their guilt in a picture published in a German magazine showing religious prisoners working as draft animals in a prison camp.

Hitler's Torture of the Jews Bared By Actual Photos

Insensate cruelties and tortures reminiscent of the middle ages characterized the huge prison camps of Hitler's Nazi government in Germany where thousands of Jews are being worked and guarded by the brown-shirted stormtroopers.

The "iron maiden" and thumb-screw, shackles of unbearable weight and labor which would have broken the back of a pre-Christian slave, the firing squad and the executioner's block—all play their part in the wholesale torture of an entire people by Hitler's followers of the Swastika.

Only the names of non-Jewish dead are published in the daily reports from these horror camps, the Daily Mirror revealed.

The Jews who die under the lash of their captors are carefully omitted from mention in all official reports.

The facts of this persecution, which outdoes the blackest pogrom in Russia's history under the Czar, were learned yesterday by the Daily Mirror through an interview with a noted German scholar, who arrived in this country secretly and whose identity will be revealed when his safety is guaranteed.

He watched the faces of the Jewish prisoners and heard their stories. And he brought vivid evidence to this country of what the Illustrated Press of Munich on July 18 ran as a special edition world that Jews were well-treated. The first editions were delivered to Dr. Joseph Paul Goebbels, Minister of Propaganda, and the press stopped rolling.

SPAIN JOINS FLORE
They were stopped because the prisoners, who should have been gay and smiling were worn and haggard, obviously starved and hopeless.

His investigations, incidentally, are being conducted into the work of the Nazi government by the United States at the present time. The house immigration committee

U. S. PROTESTS NAZI'S ACTS

Berlin, Oct. 12 (AP)—America's protest against mistreatment of United States citizens by Nazis was ready for vigorous presentation today.

In a scheduled meeting with Baron Konstantin, German foreign minister, United States Ambassador William E. Dodd planned to relay a message from Secretary of State Cordell Hull at Washington.

Secretary Hull, in brief, wanted to know what steps America was taking to prosecute the Nazi offenders.

The United States had no corner on the protests. The Dutch, British and Spanish embassies in Berlin.

Since April 4, Ambassador Dodd was prepared to tell the harem, 27 American have filed affidavits claiming mistreatment by Germans.

However, records show that only two suspects had been apprehended. One was fined.

Memorial Mass Held for Mr. Patterson

A large throng of former parishioners attended a memorial mass for St. Rev. Mr. George J. Patterson, former pastor of St. Vincent's Church, South Boston, which was held yesterday. The Rev. James Donnelly, pastor of the church, celebrated the mass, which is hoped may be held annually.

WIFE BARES FIGHT FOR HUSBAND WITH GIRL HORSE OWNER

LEAPFROG NEW LOVE AFTER ACCIDENT

Mrs. Barrett Bares Phone Plea to Miss Powers

When Miss Mary Powers, Boston stenographer, became the owner of race horses, she also acquired the affections of her trainer, according to Mrs. Margaret Barrett, who is seeking $50,000 heart balm for alleged alienation of affections.

The trainer, Alfred W. Barrett, Jr., admitted as much to his wife, according to Mrs. Barrett, who on her part admits she made a fatal mistake in devoting herself exclusively to her husband.

FIGHTING FOR JUSTICE
She said that instead of fighting for her happiness she wept, and vainly pleaded over the telephone with Miss Powers to send her husband home for the sake of the Barrett children. Eventually she divorced the horse trainer, and is asking vengeance for vengeance.

She said that instead of fighting for her happiness she wept, and vainly pleaded over the telephone with Miss Powers to send her husband home for the sake of the Barrett children. Eventually she divorced the horse trainer, and is asking vengeance for vengeance.

Seated in the office of her attorney, Mrs. Barrett told her story. "I have suffered a lot of heartache and humiliation," she said, "and all I can say to Miss Powers is that I am going into court to fight for the justice that was denied me."

"I made my first mistake in devoting myself too closely to the work of a husband. I gave up most of my social life, and I should have gone about with my husband more, I know that now. But I made a bigger mistake in trusting my husband too much. I learned that when I went to a hospital where he had been taken after falling from a horse at the Brockton Fair."

"He had left the hospital and I discovered he had given his address as the Powers. Riding School. Later he told me of his new love and asked me to get a divorce. It was then I made the greatest mistake of all. I did not fight. I was heartbroken and miserably tried to drown my heartache in tears. But I kept my sorrow from my children and they never knew anything of what I was going through."

PLEADED FOR HUSBAND
"I pleaded with Miss Powers and begged her to send my husband home for the sake of the children, but got no satisfaction. He was living at her home then, and still is, as far as I know. Last March I finally procured a divorce."

Miss Powers broke into the front pages last month when her horse "Coming Back" won a race at Rockingham Park. It was then revealed that the owner was a Coggeshall, an engraver who operates with her mother the Powers Riding School on the Dover-Nashua line.

Barrett became her trainer after selling her horse.

The alienation suit was filed by Mrs. Barrett in Boston Municipal Court.

R. I. SILK MILLS WOMAN LABOR STRIKE GROWS CHIEF MOPS UP

Pawtucket, R. I., Oct. 13.—Hundreds of silk and rayon workers, demanding a minimum weekly wage of $20, remained on strike today, against the advice of Joseph Heber, president of the local union.

Of the 7500 workers in Blackstone Valley silk and rayon mills, 1600 walked out yesterday, demanding a minimum weekly wage of $20, remained on strike today, against the advice of Joseph Heber, president of the local union.

Two of the larger mills were closed for the Columbus Day holiday. Strike leaders predicted that many of the 5000 employed in those mills would join the walkout today.

The strike lacks the sanction of the United Textile Workers of America, and is attributed by some labor leaders to the activities of radical agitators led by Ann Burleigh.

Francis J. Gorman, international vice-president of the United Textile Workers, was expected here from Washington, where he has been participating in NRA code discussions.

Gloucester Fishing Boat Runs Aground
Liverpool, N. S., Oct. 13.—The American motor vessel Polyanna, fishing out of Gloucester, ran aground as she entered the harbor. She was refloated later.

Dense fog shrouded the harbor entrance and a sea was running as the vessel piled up on a treacherous ledge, some of several shipwrecks in past years. The Polyanna sprang a leak, and she was leaking badly when a tug towed her off and brought her into port.

CAHALAN BOY TRAGEDY FINDS HOME

Relative and Friends to Provide for Him in East Boston

The dismal prospect that he must make his home in some institution vanished today for John Cahalan, 10, Malden orphan, when his family was offered to him by a relative in East Boston and by several persons who had become interested in his case.

It was feared yesterday that it would be necessary to place the boy in an institution as the result of the failure of his maternal aunt, who had promised to give him a home, to appear. The boy's father died last Monday after slaying his wife, the boy's mother.

But now the widow of his father's brother, Mrs. Catherine Cahalan, of White, at East Boston, has notified police she is willing to care for the boy and give him a home. She had thought other relatives were going to take care of him and did not know until yesterday that he faced the prospect of being sent to some institution as a neglected child.

Amy Mollison Sees Friends at Hospital
New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—The condition of Mrs. Amy Mollison, British trans-Atlantic flier, was reported so improved today that she received several friends at the Polyglot Hospital. She entered the hospital Tuesday for a week's rest.

Miss Charlotte Carr, one-time protégée of Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, thinks that in the employer-worker negotiations now going on in Pennsylvania is winning its claim of a new set of conditions.

The NRA, she said, has completed the job started by the department with the militant assistance of the Governor's wife, Mrs. Gifford Pinchot.

"Situations upon which we have had to spend our energies have been cleared up. Sweathouses are old stuff now. We have expelled them thoroughly."

CRASH LAID TO FREIGHT CREW
New Haven, Conn., Oct. 13.—New Haven railroad officials state that members of the engine crew of the Maybrook-New Haven freight train which crashed into a standing freight Sunday morning in Cedar Hill yards, had been found responsible for the accident.

J. P. Donohue, division superintendent, found John Detrick, engineer, E. J. Brennan, fireman, and J. W. Ryan, brakeman, responsible for the collision.

The freight struck the rear of the "Speed Switch," a fast Baltimore freight, demolishing the engine and one car, and derailing three others. Two men in the caboose leaped to safety just before the crash.

Railroad officials announced that the three men found responsible have been suspended.

50 CENTS A DAY FOR STAMP IN AID RACKET

80 Welfare Recipients Lose Cards Because of New Fraud

Boston's latest welfare racket today was described as a case of welfare recipients being the hand that feeds them.

Persons legitimately entitled to relief have had bogus stamps affixed to their collection cards, according to Walter V. McCarthy, executive director of the welfare department.

Thus they have been able to collect a day's wage from the city without doing any work, he explained.

Racketeers stamped the cards at a flat rate of 50 cents per day. McCarthy's investigators learned during the last few days in which a secret search has been under way for the culprits.

Approximately 80 cards have been taken from welfare recipients since the bogus stamp was discovered by Daniel Murphy, chief clerk of the board.

McCarthy, however, expressed the fear that it may be impossible to apprehend the racketeers who have been stamping the cards, now that they know they are being sought.

Love Suit for Sake of Babies

To provide and safeguard the future of her three little children was given as cause of her suit against Mary Powers, the stenographer-horse stable owner, by Mrs. Margaret Barrett, last night. The Dorchester wife (shown here) of Alfred W. Barrett, Jr., claims $50,000 for love that she claims the Powers girl stole from her—which resulted in her husband leaving the wife and children. Barrett is the trainer in the Powers' stable at Dover. Mrs. Barrett claims the "Romance of the race track" placed her children's future welfare in jeopardy.

Belittling of Mayflower is Protested
Atty. Launie's Speech in West End Scored by "Descendants"

It isn't so much that their ancestors were called gold hunters, adventurers, seavets and eccentrics—but when the good old Mayflower was termed only a rowboat—that's what hurt a high official of the Mayflower Descendants, particularly today in denying the assertions of Atty. Joseph J. Launie, former member of the Republican state committee, in addressing the West End Italian-American Citizens Club.

"Was the Mayflower was a boat of 180 tons and that was a so-called Mayflower Descendants' leader."

The statements of Atty. Launie are not worthy of notice, there is nothing to be said that is true. Apparently he is one of those persons who want to shoot off his mouth and be sensational."

In his address at the club Atty. Chicago, Oct. 13 (U.S.)—For more than a decade the violent deaths of Chicago had men have been closely associated with the name of Margaret Mary Collins. They call her the "Kiss of Death Girl."

Tuesday, Friday, the 13th, she went on trial.

Before Judge... She is a... under the new... of the... date for... trial was... not an... It was... by Judge... The grim... of it...

Margaret Collins... to blanch. For as her trial proceeds the state will take the lives of the cop-killers, Morris Cohen, Ross King and John Schack.

FIRST IS EXECUTED

The first of three paid the extreme penalty today when Cohen, 34, was executed at the county jail for killing Patrolman Joseph Hastings during a robbery.

Mary is a beautiful platinum blonde and dresses in the height of fashion. Reputedly a shoplifter in New York before her Chicago advent, Mary came here after a Manhattan swindle, named Thomas, had been killed. This Thomas has never been counted and would make the number of dead lovers read right.

On Dec. 8, 1923, "Dandy Jack" Sheehy died of wounds received after he killed two men in a quarrel over Mary.

On August 27, 1924, John Phillips was killed. Mary mourned at his bier.

On November 10, 1924, Dion O'Banion was shot down after a feud with Mike Corona over Mary.

On Aug. 28, 1925, "Sonny" Schlegel, reputed in a $200,000 diamond robbery, was found shot. Mary again was believed. On Nov. 27, "Jew Boy" Bates, who had been suspected of killing Schlegel to appropriate Mary, was found murdered.

Then on June 7, 1930, "Red" McLaughlin, who had been tortured to death, was found in canal Mary, shopwoman, perhaps, but still beautiful, was again a murderess.

On June 16, 1932, Sam Katz, extortioner, another sweetheart, was killed.

Her latest sweetie, "Building" Feldman, was recently shot while trying to rob a fur store.

FISHERMAN, 70, LOST AT SEA

Maine, Oct. 13.—Discovery of William Ames' motorboat unmanned and running in circles, gave rise to the belief that Ames, 70-year-old lobster fisherman, had fallen overboard and drowned while pulling his trap.

Coast Guardsmen, who searched for the missing fisherman's body, expressed doubt it would be recovered, as the water is more than 16 fathoms deep in the vicinity and the tidal currents strong.

FIREMAN AFTER HORSE DOPERS

New York, Oct. 13.—A Kram owner of Sweeping Light, suspended for being "ponged" in the fifth race at Jamaica on Monday, is greatly exercised over the ruling of the stewards of the Jockey Club. He has turned the case over to Assistant Dist. Atty. Rahab of Queens County and Lieut. Edward Moore is investigating.

Kram announced he would offer substantial reward for the arrest and conviction of the offenders. He is satisfied no one connected with his stable had anything to do with the inserting of the sponge. Kram also announced he would spend a small fortune to find the miscreants.

Before the fourth race, the Columbus Day Handicap, the track veterinarian examined Gold Ship, but found nothing. This is the proper method and every other prize horse should be examined before he goes to the post instead of 24 hours later. The honest horseman welcome examinations for it removes them from the slightest onus of blame.

A. C. Botwick appeared before the stewards yesterday and resented vigorously the scandal attached to the Botwick name about the alleged "stimulating" of Garden Meagre, owned by his brother, George H.

The case will not be definitely decided until the Jockey Club convenes next week.

Yale Honor Student Dies of Gas Poison

New Haven, Oct. 13 (U.S.)—Robert Farquhar, 28, honor student in his second year at the Yale Medical School, was found dead of gas poisoning in his home here this morning. Police said he was a morose.

Farquhar, son of Francis Farquhar of York, Pa., received a doctor or philosophy degree at Yale in 1926 and for two years following was a student at Cambridge University, England, on a fellowship.

Beverly Man Wins Cockerel Honors

Chicago, Oct. 13.—A white leg-horn hen from the poultry farm of Dr. E. L. Denison at Amesworth, Ind., took the grand prize at the Chicago Poultry Show. A black Minore cock owned by J. A. Burlock of Lynchburg, Pa., won second honors.

Awards included: Champion cockerel (all breeds), Henry P. McKean, Beverly Farms, Mass.

Girls, Beware, Man-Hunting Perils Love

Prof. Black at the B. U. Warns of Hasty Marriage Danger

"Like modern Cleopatras, they chase after prospective husbands, trying to bait them, using all their wiles to catch a man."

That was the brief, vivid description made by Mrs. Agnes Knox Black, Snow professor of elocution at Boston University's college of liberal arts, university adviser to women and widow of the late Dr. Charles Black, scholar and author, speaking of those girls who have but one intent in life—"to get their man."

"Those girls who are making marriage their life's primary purpose are making a grave mistake," Mrs. Black said. "Marriage will come of itself, a result of true romance, but one simply cannot hunt about for a husband and expect a happy marriage."

LOVE HIDES EVERYWHERE

Mrs. Black speaks from a lifetime of observation. She is neither a cynic nor a reformer, but is very popular among the students.

Her advice, therefore, bears weight and consideration. "Chasing after a good-looking man is not romance," added Mrs. Black. "The usual consequence of a successful 'man-hunt' is a visit to the divorce court within a short time after the marriage."

Mrs. Black believes high romance comes, drawn by accident or fate; but it cannot be made or manufactured.

"Romance is likely to appear any place. Even in a speakeasy," Mrs. Black said with a merry twinkle in her eyes. "A girl may find romance, if she has gone there with the idea of having a good time or of dancing; but not if she has gone there to capture her man."

GETTING NOT ROMANCE

She does not, however, in any sense approve of speakeasies. "Sentimentality has no place in college," she said. She puts "thumbs down" on college love affairs.

Speaking of the co-eds to whom college means four years of dates and flirting, she says: "Girls in college have no right to spend time paid for by their parents in having fun good time."

One Who Runs After a Romance Often Finds Divorce Suit

after another. College is no place to go man-hunting. Petteg, warns Mrs. Black, is not romance; it is cheap bait. Not that the advisor to women is against cultivating college friendships, for she advises that the friendship of a woman is the greatest thing a man can have. "But playing up to the man, flirting with him on the campus and in classes, that is merely vulgar display," she concluded.

NEW CONFESSION EXPECTED IN ARSON PLOT EXPOSE

Another confession in the Waltham arson plot, in which Howard B. Peterson, prominent citizen, confessed and implicated five members of an alleged arson, extortion and kidnap gang, was forecast today by Asst. Dist. Atty. Frank G. Volpe hurried to Waltham.

Police with four men under arrest and Peterson's arrest expected momentarily, were seeking the fifth member of the gang, while the others were being taken to court. Ten victims of recent kidnaping and extortion threats were to Boston police headquarters and viewed a lineup in which the four men were placed, but no identification could be made.

Peterson, according to the police, has revealed that after his icehouse was fired and $10,000 insurance collected, he was proved upon by a gang with kidnap threats against his children, causing him to pay $6450 to members of the gang.

State police and Boston officers are working with the Waltham authorities to try to link members of the gang with other incendiary and racketeering in Greater Boston.

Peterson, still considerably shaken by the kidnap threats, despite the arrests which the police have made, received a fright early to day when he heard a prowler about his home in Eliot street, Waltham.

Fearing revenge at the hands of friends of those whose arrest he had caused, he hastily called the police.

But when officers arrived Peterson apologized and said he had discovered it was a man who lives in the neighborhood who was trying to find his own home after a little celebration.

Those under arrest are: Butler, George, Framingham, alleged leader; Bruno, Vito, 21, of Limerick st., East Boston; Noonan, Harrie F., alias Frankie Norton, of Elm st., Cambridge.

HOWARD B. PETERSON

Four of the arson suspects held on the shaken-down accusation of Howard B. Peterson, wealthy Waltham business man, are here shown at police headquarters. Another confession in the case was expected by prosecutors today as Mrs. Peterson corroborated her husband's story and told how she had saved him from suicide. In the photos, left to right, are Barrie F. Noonan, Cambridge; George Butler, Framingham; Vito Pascone, East Boston; and Nutze Bruno, East Cambridge. (Boston American Photo.)

Judge sent "Machine Gun" Kelly, and his wife, Kathryn, to jail for life, under the "Lindbergh law," for kidnaping Charles F. Urschel. It took only three days to reach that conclusion.

In connection with that one kidnaping, six persons have been sent to prison for life, including Harvey Bailey, "super-bad-man."

In the news comes gruesome items from Shanghai shedding light on our "civilization." Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is hurriedly rushing to Kiangsi province 10,000 hospital beds to be ready to handle the wounded.

The American Federation of Labor officially opposes "any United States move toward inflation as a danger to wage-earners." There is a worse danger than "inflation" for ten million men that were once "wage-earners," and are now without jobs. That is the danger of continuing idle idleness.

You can't put men to work with resolutions, or with talk about "an honest dollar." Any dollar that would buy something would suit those ten millions.

DAVIS SOFTENS TUTTLE'S BERLIN

Geneva, Oct. 13 (AP)—Norman H. Davis, American ambassador-at-large, and Premier Mussolini today stood forth as rival mediators in the disarmament clash between Germany and Britain.

Davis made his first open move by trying to soften the effect of a virtual ultimatum to Germany forbidding her to rearm.

Britain and France had intended that British Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon present a joint statement to the conference steering committee.

Davis, thinking this would wreck the conference, induced Simon to confine himself to a keynote speech to be made before the general commission Monday, opposing German rearmament.

If Chancellor Hitler, after today's conference in Berlin, insists Germany be permitted the arms forbidden her by the Treaty of Versailles, a further clash is expected. Mussolini is ignoring negotiations here, apparently expecting a collapse, so he could act as sole mediator under the four-power pact.

Germany Charges Bad Faith to "Big Three"

Berlin, Oct. 13 (AP)—Germany today issued a verbal protest against refusal of the big three, Great Britain, France, and the United States, to grant her permission to rearm.

Following an hour's conference between Chancellor Hitler and British Ambassador Sir Horace Rumbold, Davis, who had been in Geneva for three days, returned to Berlin.

He charged the former allies with breaking their solemn pledge to extend armament equality to the Reich.

Allied charges that Germany desires to rear are false, the statement said, contending the Reich has a militia by the Reich did not constitute armament equality.

BLUEBEARD DIES FOR KILLING 3

Spezia, Italy, Oct. 13 (AP)—A volley of bullets in the back at dawn today ended 47-year-old Cesare Servattini's gypsy career as Italy's modern "Bluebeard."

Servattini was tied to a chair and shot in the spine by a squad of Carabinieri. A huge crowd witnessed his death.

He was convicted on July 7 of the mysterious disappearance and deaths of three young women who had given him their affections and life savings.

He made a sickly effort at jauntiness today as the white-faced young Carabinieri tied him to his chair, blindfolded him and leveled their rifles at his back.

The first of this modern Bluebeard's victims was Beatrice Marzocchi, formerly of Long Branch, N. J. Shortly after she arrived in Italy, he obtained the savings she had accumulated during many years as a domestic, and murdered her Oct. 20, 1930.

Her body was cut in pieces and thrown into the Tiber in Rome. Another woman, Pasqua Bartolotti, was killed and disposed of in the same way.

The debate in Servattini's bloody love affairs came when he deviated from the river system of disposal. Italy was aroused last November with the finding in railway stations of suitcases containing portions of a woman's body.

After long search the contents were identified as the remains of Paulina Gortelli, "Bluebeard" was arrested promptly and confessed.

4 in Northampton Held for Kidnaping

New Britain, Ct., Oct. 13 (AP)—Three men and a woman held in Northampton, Mass., were formally charged by Prosecutor Harry Gurnea today with assault and kidnaping last night of Charles Okulick, 46, as the culmination of a long standing quarrel over a $1000 Liberty bond.

The four, all of Cavendish, Vt., were W. Leroy Blahy, Tony Prokulevsky, Mary Prokulevsky, and John Janowski, according to Gurnea.

DILLON MEMBER SOLD STOCK AT $52 PROFIT

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—Timothy James V. Forester, a member of Dillon, Read & Co., sold 14,748 shares of stock for $52 a share which he had acquired for less than a dollar share was given today to the Senate banking committee.

Relating how he had formed a private company for tax purposes which was controlled by himself and Mrs. Forester, he said he had obtained 75,000 shares of U. S. & Foreign stock & Dillon, Read & Co. investment trust.

He testified he bought 7,500 at 20 cents a share; 17,000 at 25 cents and the remainder at $1 a share of $13,250—the seventh of what he obtained for the 14,748 shares.

The witness said he had filed an income tax return for the Beekman Corporation, Ltd., of Canada, which he controlled, as a result of testimony before the Senate banking committee.

The return was filed on June 15, 1933, he testified, adding, "It returns had been made until then for 1929, 1930 or 1931. A tax of $200 was paid, he said.

At End of Crime's Highway U. S. TO GIVE UP CURB ON CUBA

Washington, Oct. 13 (NS)—An administration move to Congress to abolish the country's right to intervene in Cuba, has been announced.

Announcement was made as the House Judiciary committee in its report on the subject, was held in session today.

The committee, however, is expected to recommend that the right to intervene be retained, but that the country's right to intervene be limited to the protection of its citizens and the maintenance of order in Cuba.

Washington, Oct. 13—Orders for withdrawal of four of the warships which have been stationed in Cuba, were announced by the State Department today.

The four ships, which were stationed in Cuba, were the USS "Albatross," "Albatross," "Albatross," and "Albatross."

MRS. HASCALL IS PRISON NURSE

Mrs. Florence C. Hascall, Rock Hill widow who was sentenced to two years in the House of Correction in connection with the "Big Family Swindle," is recalled today as a nursemaid to the baby of a deputy keeper at the jail.

At the time of her sentence she was considered an "easy" and "gentle" woman, and "gentle" some time undergoing treatment for shock at the jail.

After her recovery she was put to work in the women's division and was later transferred to the room of Deputy Keeper and Mrs. Hascall, who is the second floor of the jail building.

She was brought there at the time of Mrs. Hascall's arrest, and remained there for some time.

Filmies' Fabulous Fortunes Periled, They Get Jitters

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 13—The film world is in a state of jitters today, and the reason is the fact that the Federal Reserve board has announced that it will not permit the payment of dividends to stockholders of the film industry.

The board's action is based on the fact that the film industry is a "public utility" and, therefore, its stockholders are entitled to the same protection as the stockholders of a public utility.

M'KEE RECORD ATTACKED

New York, Oct. 13—Forrest La Guardia, fusion candidate, opened an oratorical barrage yesterday upon Joseph V. McKee in New York's mayoral campaign.

McKee, independent candidate had dubbed La Guardia a "demagogue" and as a "Republican Congressman he had rewarded every convicted felon who had ever delivered in a political campaign.

"I shall answer that speech paragraph by paragraph," McKee said.

"Incidentally, McKee will hear something about his own record. There is one thing that (Pontmaster-General) Farley and (Secretary of State) Ryan cannot do for their boy, Joe. They cannot destroy public records."

This will be followed by a grand ball and entertainment. Miss Esther Elowitz of Beverly is chairman of the ball committee.

Aimee's Answers

Aimee Sample McPherson, who opens revival services here Friday evening at the Arena, will answer one question a day on practical religion through the columns of the Boston Evening American. The second question and answer follow:

QUESTION: What would Jesus do to combat or to rectify the divorce evil of today?
ANSWERED BY:
Aimee Sample McPherson
ANSWER: No more fundamentally correct message could be given than the Bible's admonition to "be not unequally yoked together."
The divorce evil is not a product of the institution of marriage, so much as it is the result of faulty or ill-considered choice. Once you have made the mistake of choosing unwisely, the problem of divorce arises. It is not the answer to the broken homes of today; it is but a makeshift that corrects nothing. The solution must go back to the basic characters and the wise choice before marriage.

Chorus Beauties Brainy, Dean Rogers Believes

The beautiful chorus girls at almost sure to be intelligent, according to Dr. Frederick Rand Rogers, Dean of Boston University's department of student health.

"The catch phrases, 'beautiful, but dumb,' 'slow, but sure,' are mere superstitions," Dr. Rogers declares. "The long run good things tend to go together rather than otherwise. This is, in fact, a prerequisite to evolution, in business and social life, as well as in nature."

Baby's Initials to Mark NRA March

Lawrence, Oct. 13—There were two big events in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Ullano. They had witnessed an NRA parade of 35,000 persons and 250 floats. Then a daughter was born to Mr. Ullano.

To commemorate both events the baby will bear the initials NRA. Name: Rose Anzela.

PERHAPS you feel sausage is a sacred dish—to be eaten all by itself, and lots of it! There's much to be said in favor of that. For Deerfoot Farm Sausage is one of the tastiest, most mouth-watering morsels that ever passed your lips! But for variety and economy, take a tip from the suggestions below.

Every bit of pork in Deerfoot Farm Sausage is as fresh as though you bought it from your butcher. No trimmings; no tough, stringy pieces. . . . But fresh, tender, pink-and-white cuts . . . beautiful proportions of juicy lean and sweet, milk-white fat. All the meat is chopped, instead of ground or mashed. In that way, none of the delicious flavor is lost! And Deerfoot seasoning doesn't bite. Many a one would give a fortune to know our secret of blending spices! Try Deerfoot Farm Sausage today—at home or in a restaurant. Links or patties.

Borden's Fine Cheeses

Borden's Chateau Cheese

YOU ought to be a detective, Helen. For you've certainly discovered my weakness—cheese—especially a cheese flavor like this!

If you, or anyone in your life, has a weakness for cheese, Chateau is made to order for you.

It's a new and distinctive cheese treat that is mild, but not too mild; tangy, but not too tangy. In other words it's just right.

And Borden makes it by a special pasteurizing process that adds valuable body-building elements good for youngsters . . . and brings Chateau to you in a form that's as easily spread as butter.

Try Chateau. See why it has enjoyed such phenomenal success with cheese-lovers. Your grocer has it, in the special Borden package that keeps it fresh and does away with all kind and all waste.

And don't miss these other Borden treats
Let Chateau serve as your introduction to the complete line of Borden's Fine Cheeses: to Borden's Cream Cheese, Borden's Swiss, Borden's Brick, Borden's Pimento, Borden's American, Military Brand Camembert, Liederkranz, Borden's Limburger.

MAINE BANK MEN SUED FOR $3,500,000

Portland, Me., Oct. 12 (AP)—Forty-four officers and directors of the Fidelity Trust Co., which failed to open after the bank holiday last March and was placed under a conservator, were charged with "careless, negligent, improvident, wrongful, illegal and unlawful acts and failure to act" in an equity action filed in supreme court here today in an attempt to recover damages to the approximately $3,500,000 loss it was alleged the bank suffered.

The bill, covering 30 printed pages, was brought in the name of Robert Drush, Portland defendant, more executive, a conservator, and so on as a director and a member of the executive committee of the bank named as one of the defendants.

DEMAND THEY PAY
The bill asks a decree holding the 44 men liable for the large loss and that when the amount of liability of each is ascertained, decrees be entered requiring the defendants to pay such amounts.

Among those named as defendants were:

For J. Gannett of Cape Elizabeth, president of Portland, Waterbury and Augusta newspapers, president of the bank.
Walter S. Wynant, president of the Central Maine Power Company and the New England Public Service Company and chairman of the Maine state committee.
Leahy House, a colonel in the Maine national guard.

G. O. P. CHIEF NAMED
Charles Sumner, Cook, lawyer and president of the new National Bank of Commerce, chairman of the bank holiday and which occupies the lower quarters of the Fidelity.

William D. Ireland, investment broker and partner with President Thompson M. Day, head of an estate agent.
Leonard A. Pierce, attorney and one of the counsel for Braun as conservator.
Harry L. Furbush, Rangeley.

Daughter of Allen Drops Will Fight

Salem, Oct. 12—Just as Miss Allen, daughter of the late Allen, was about to appear in a Probate Court here last Tuesday, indicating that she would fight the will of her father, the late Lewis P. Allen of Lynnfield, Mrs. Grace M. Allen of Concord filed a petition in court yesterday to set aside the will.

She did not appear in court personally on either occasion and her attorney said she was unable to say what reasons governed her client's action.

Under the terms of her father's will, Mrs. Allen was left the life income of one-third of the residue of his estate after other bequests were made.

Allen left his second wife, the former Anna J. Longley, May 1901, and she died in 1902. She was left a home valued at $100,000, a car, a motorboat, a automobile and $100 a month for life. Other bequests listed $100,000 to Mrs. Allen, a two children, George and Georgiana, were left only $1000 each because, according to the will, their father would provide for them.

One of the clauses of the will was an explicit prohibition, forbidding the executor to compromise with anyone who contested the instrument.

Robert Hale, lawyer and former speaker of the Maine House of Representatives, is executor of the will.

Edward P. Ricker, Jr., of Portland, is executor of the will.

Blaine S. Viles of Augusta, underwriter and former member of the Governor's Executive Council, is executor of the will.

George H. Weeks, treasurer of the Fidelity.

AL SMITH GETS NEW DEGREE

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 12—The University of the State of New York conferred on Alfred E. Smith an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

He was presented for the degree as a student of government who had become, in 30 years, "a leader of thought in America." Shortly before he had heard that League of Nations officials were considering his name for the post of high commissioner of Jewish refugees.

"You're getting quite a collection of degrees, aren't you?" a friend said jokingly to Smith. The former governor grinned.

"Yes. But I've put more on my office wall for a few more," Doctor Smith answered.

He holds honorary degrees from Manhattan, Fordham, the University of Ireland, Columbia and Harvard.

MRS. COOLIDGE CROSBY LASHES GETS HONORS DAIRY TRUST

Massachusetts, Pa., Oct. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, widow of the 30th president of the United States, becomes today a member of the board of regents of Mercersburg College, where her two sons prepared for college.

Elected to the board in June, she arrived here last night, the guest of headmaster and Mrs. Boyd Edwards.

Four distinguished men are to join the board of regents with Mrs. Coolidge. They are Dr. Alfred E. Stearns, headmaster-emeritus of Phillips Andover Academy, Andover, Mass.; General Merritt W. Ireland, U. S. Army, retired, of Washington, D. C.; Dr. John Timothy Rott, president of McCormick Theological Seminary of Chicago, and Dean Luther P. Eisenhart of Princeton University.

Crosey said the price paid farmers is less than the cost of production, while the "trust" makes "enormous profits." He blamed the "dishonest and tricky device" of a basic price and surplus quota.

PINCHOT FLAYS STEEL HEADS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 12 (INS)—Gov. Gifford Pinchot left strike-torn Western Pennsylvania today with a characterization of the nation's steel magnates as "chislers and cheaters."

"I mean the steel magnates," he said. "I mean Taylor, Grace and Schwab—and their successors, the little money-men who should be remembered by the American people as chislers and cheaters."

"They refuse to obey the law which requires them to recognize the representatives of the miners who work in their captive mines. Their obstinate, unparliamentary refusal is deliberately prolonging labor disturbances in the soft coal fields and is keeping alive the strife in Western Pennsylvania."

Use Syllables, Not ABC's, Expert Says

New York Oct. 12 (INS)—Championing the "syllabic" method of teaching to read, the general secretary of the American International Association of Teachers, who would all be benefited in the opinion of Monsignor Eugene Tisserant, prefect of the Vatican Library, if syllables were used instead of the alphabet and a syllabic system of writing substituted.

Monsignor Tisserant, who expected to leave today for Chicago, came to the United States to attend the international teachers' committee sessions, opening there tomorrow.

"It is the alphabet which makes one language so different from another," the Vatican library expert explained. "In English, for example, you cannot write the sound 'ah' or 'eh' without putting down two letters. The Russians have a single letter for these sounds. When you study Russian you must learn these letters and add them to your alphabet."

For a while he, apparently, followed the lead of Mussolini the futurist, who believes that Italy should get rid of her state antiquities, her ruins of the past, her archaeological art, and look forward to the future. To Mussolini seemed to put a good deal of emphasis on railroads, factories, machinery run by natural steam, and pompous memorials of the new era, and all sort of things.

But the tourists didn't seem thrilled. Like the little boy in the story, "they had heard to come to Detroit and Akron and Pittsburgh could show them more than Rome or Milan."

His first venture was the excavating—if you can call it that—of one of the galleys in which Caesar Tiberius used to stage what it is usual to term his "orgies."

At that, the chances are that Curley would have given him cards and spades in staging them, including the Kling klugs, which "they" lived too easily to enjoy.

When curtain-raising time arrived, a full-fledged rebellion was under way, with musicians of the orchestra and 20 members of the chorus playing the part of rebels.

As the argument waxed and waned behind the scenes, visibly gowned women and their escorts began to get restive.

By 9 o'clock many of the audience, exasperated by the delay, went to the box office and demanded a refund on their tickets.

On Tuesday afternoon, following a rebellion of the chorus, the performers and musicians of the orchestra, fighting for life, fought them as best they might.

Ironclad Jockey Club Law Ignored in Lust to Win at Any Cost

Federal Agents Buy Narcotics at Will for Low Prices; No Officials Ever Inspect 'Doctored' Horses

Government narcotic agents are using a not-so-quiet campaign against the doping of race horses. Cocaine, heroin, atropine and other forms of narcotics have been given the horses, the campaign by the U. S. agents reveals to give the runners added speed and stamina in races and to allow "muders" in the crooked racing ring a favorable chance to clean up in the pari-mutuel and betting rings throughout the country.

Narcotic agents in a secret campaign covering the leading tracks of the national have obtained amazing information on the practice of doping horses. Recent arrests are the result of this campaign.

The following article by Frank G. Menke, noted sports writer, is the second of a series dealing with the dope problem. Others will be published only in the Boston Evening American and Boston Sunday Advertiser. Follow them.

By FRANK G. MENKE

Administration of narcotics to race horses has been barred by jockey clubs and other governing racing bodies for almost two generations, but the rule seems kin of the "forgotten man," despite which track officials point with pride to the clause which states that anyone found guilty of "doping" a horse will be perpetually barred from the track.

Crushing a race horse is among the most heinous crimes of turfdom, they tell you in New York, Illinois, Maryland, Kentucky and elsewhere. This being the case, the attitude of the governing bodies is that they are exercising unflinching vigilance to protect such "doped" horses from being made victims of the narcotic evil.

Interested as to when a horse was to be "doctored," and would shade the terms for such information, the governing bodies are eager to make a bet when guaranteed the horse would be made "doped" with their illicit means.

"I say 'doctored' when I might say 'doping' merely to be ethical. We have proof in instances where the mixture was tested, and the remainder of their contents tested, that the solution in 'doctored' contained heroin or cocaine—irrefutable evidence that the narcotics were used."

"One of the men jailed, who had a supply of heroin, and who had been frequently observed using the mixture as a cough medicine. We did not challenge the veracity of his unique statement because possession of heroin for any purpose in the United States, even for the purpose of this drug having been barred since the narcotics were used."

"Our men reported that it was generally common knowledge among the night before, of the morning of the race, that certain horses had been 'doctored' and they found it quite simple to be taking a short cut when the 'doctored' horses were running. The gathering evidence was completed at work. They reported that five or six horses had been 'doctored' for the same race, and they did it at only one place at a time."

"The list of 'doctored' horses will create considerable surprise when they are made public records because they include the names of some very famous stake or handicap horses which ran to surprising triumphs in the past."

"Multi-millionaire turfmen appear as owners of horses which our agents reported were 'doctored.' I hardly can believe that these 'doctored' horses were not 'doctored' by the owners themselves, many of them highly respected and successful turfmen."

"One of the tragic features of 'doctored' is that only about 10 per cent of the horses are caught in their races. The other 90 per cent of the horses are 'doctored' and they are never caught."

"The drug acted too soon and the horses were caught before their physical power in the past, and to act did not function until after the race. (3) Some underdogs were made to be better than one which had been 'doctored' (4) With 'doctored' horses in a race, only one could win."

"The third installment of this expose on the doping of thoroughbred racing horses will be published in the Boston Evening American tomorrow. He sure and read it."

'beacon hill'

By Betty Alden

FOUR DEBS ARE BRAVING THE ill-fated Friday, the 13th, for their entrance into the social whirl today.

Miss Mary Jane Dewey and Miss Katherine Elizabeth Baker will be formally presented this afternoon at a tea dance at the Brookline Country Club given by Mr. and Mrs. Percy Dewey and Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Baker.

The debutantes and their parents will receive before an arrangement of flowers in autumn tones with a rich tapestry background.

Miss Dewey is wearing a French blue velvet tea gown trimmed with touches of silver... her mother's black satin gown is softened with touches of chiffon.

Lade green velvet with gold, fashions Miss Baker's costume. Her mother is wearing a dress of soft gray moiré velvet with a bodice of point d'aléon lace. The girls are carrying arm bouquets of gardenias, pale yellow cluster orchids with African daisies and moiré in coral shades.

Miss Alice Allen, a deb of last season, and Miss Jane Sherman, a cousin of Miss Dewey, will be in charge of the tea table decorated with informal mixed flowers in keeping with the hand-painted walls... Doreen Woodvatt Bowman arranged the decorations.

Several Vassar girls who have come to our are: Miss Em Bowles Locker, of Richmond, Va.; Miss Helen Quinn, of Washington, D. C.; and Miss Jane Kellond, a deb of this season. Other guests include the Misses Camilla Alsop, Eleanor Biegan, Leslie Bremer, Olive Burroughs, Betty Butcher, Barbara Coffin, Ursula Coates, Jane Dinmore, Bettina Gray, Sally Jenkins, Helen Marshall, Gertrude McInley, Catherine Richardson, Margaret Swift, Virginia Tolman, Frances Turner, Anne Upton, Evelyn Weatherby, and Anne Wicks.

After the tea Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Dewey are giving a dinner at Mrs. Baker's home for the pourers, home from college, and taking them on to the Fiesta Fantastique at the playhouse afterward... Among their dinner guests will be Sally Jenkins, Betty Butcher, Eleanor Biegan, Em Bowles Locker, Helen Quinton, Margaret Tyler, and the Messrs. Richard Banfield, Curtis, Alfred Dewey, Ashton Emerson, Ransom Lynch, Malcolm Mallard, Sydney Knevel, Samuel O'Brien, Jr., Richard Smyth, James Thackara and Thomas L. Dammann.

Cynthia Hoar Has Debut at Concord

OUT IN HISTORIC CONCORD, AT THE COUNTRY Club, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hoar are giving a dance this evening to introduce formally their daughter, Miss Cynthia Hoar... one of the most popular and fascinating deb in the section.

A select group of girls has been invited to the usher's dinner, including Miss Hoar's house guests, the Misses Hetty Richardson, Hope Lord, Marie Turner and Emily Morrison. Other guests at the dinner will be the Misses Frances Turner, Eleanor Shaw, Mary Weed, Agnes Osborne, Susan Meane, Jean Gordon Nancy Cabot Anne Upton and Margaret Blake and others too many to mention.

The following young men have been invited to usher: Frank Bowditch, Stuart Cook, George Upton, LeMoine White, Jack Clement, Theodores Motely, Vincent Palmer, Thomas Edmonds, John Bowditch, Winthrop Lee, Dickson Smith, Whitney Cook and Russell Sturges Hepburn.

Miss Hoar will receive in a gown of rust colored velvet, draped in Grecian lines, and will carry a mixed bouquet of flowers.

Mrs. Hoar is a Warren, which makes Miss Cynthia a cousin of the two Warren girls, Anne and Helen, of Exeter. The Hoar estate in Concord is very beautiful and the whole family is very much on the social map, so to speak... there will be lots of entertaining this winter for Miss Cynthia.

Debut at Beverly Farms Estate

LAST, BUT BY FAR NOT THE LEAST, IS THE SMALL house dance the Alvin Sortwell are giving in their Beverly Farms house this evening, to present Miss Anne Sortwell... Mrs. Henry Pratt McKean is entertaining before the dance with a large dinner for Miss Sortwell and her house guests, Miss Nancy Knobe of Chicago and Miss Jane Cook of Washington.

We published earlier in the week the list of young people who have been invited to Mrs. McKean's dinner party... they represent the cream of the North Shore younger social set.

Party at Philanthropic School

EVA LE GALLIENNE HAS BEEN INVITED TO ATTEND the bridge party and entertainment at the new home of the Speech School for Crippled Children at 284 Commonwealth Avenue on Wednesday evening, Oct. 18... the school recently moved its headquarters into the exquisite old Quincy Shaw house.

Mrs. Lars Anderson, Mrs. Malcolm Bradley French, Mrs. Richard Saltontall and Mrs. Francis Lee Higginson head the list of patronesses for the party which is being planned by a committee under the direction of Mrs. James M. Stuart. Her assistants are Mesdames O. W. Brown, Fred Snow, H. M. Southwick, W. S. Wright and Judge Emma Fall Schofield.

The school, well known for its charitable work among children of defective speech, has many noted physicians on its advisory board... Bridge will not be the only diversion of the evening as the committee is inviting dancers to entertain the guests and is planning an elaborate buffet.

Louise Fessenden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sewall Fessenden, will be married to Dr. Edwin F. Cave on Dec. 9 in the First Katherine Baker Church in Chestnut Hill. Mrs. F. Wadsworth Bask (Harnett L. Fessenden) will be matron of honor and Olivia Ames will be a bridesmaid. Little Rose Lee Bask will be a flower girl. Dr. Cave and his bride will live in Chestnut Hill.

Chatty Notes of Social Circles

Manbott.

SOCIETY MATRONS

MRS. ROBERT F. DALEY MRS. EDWARD M. GUILD MRS. WALTER BADGER
The Cushman Club tea, at which Mrs. Mann was the guest of honor, was a merry social repast. Included with the socially prominent matrons was a sprinkling of last season's debas who found modish rivals among their seniors. The leading players of "Let 'Em Eat Cake" gave an aura of the theatrical to the generally staid atmosphere. Among the matrons who dropped in were Mrs. Robert F. Daley, of Brookline, Mrs. Edward M. Guild, of Brookline, and Mrs. Walter Badger.

Bridal Parties Off for Bermuda After Holiday Weddings

YELLOW CHRYSANTHEMUMS AND tall white candles formed the decorations at the altar of the First Church in Marblehead, yesterday, for the marriage of Miss Janet Beaton, of Marblehead to Dr. Albert M. Moloney, of South Boston. The bridal gown of ivory satin was trimmed with rose point lace, with which a rose point lace cap and veil of tulle were worn. A bouquet of orchids and lilies completed the costume.

Miss Margaret Beaton, honor a maid, wore a striking gown of burnt orange velvet and a ruffled hat of brown net with velvet ruffled edge, turned back over the face in the new mode, with a tiny veil she carried Tallman roses and delphinium.

Dr. James Moloney, who is a full dress naval officer, was wearing a dark suit with a velvet ruffled hat of brown net with velvet ruffled edge, turned back over the face in the new mode, with a tiny veil she carried Tallman roses and delphinium.

Mrs. Moloney is the niece of Mrs. Maurice McRide of Beach Bluff. After their honeymoon in Bermuda, they will return to Boston.

Weds Quincy Leader

REPORT AN ALLEGEDLY that through St. Anne's Church in Westchester, N. Y., Dorothy Mott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark T. Mott of Boston became the bride of Dr. John F. Flynn of Quincy. The wedding took place at St. Anne's church and a large number of guests were present.

LINGER AT TEA

'the social whirl'

By Dorothy Whipple Fry

THE FEMALE OF THE SPECIES MAY BE MORE DEADLY than the male, Kipling's contention, we will not challenge. But we will suggest that a vast difference lies between the sexes in their mode of life and their method of attack. There is a difference about men that is interesting when compared with the devoted route women take to accomplish their purpose. One might say that this is so, until one is told that since the dawn of creation men have achieved their goal more by force.

From our observation of the social whirl, we are convinced that the modern woman is a more deadly creature than the woman of society. It is the woman of society who is the victim of the depression. We could not say that the woman of society is the victim of the depression. We could not say that the woman of society is the victim of the depression.

It was such a beautiful day when Mrs. Malcolm Bradley French, of Brookline, and her husband, Mr. Bradley, were married. The wedding took place at the home of Mrs. French and was a very beautiful affair. The bride wore a white gown and the groom wore a dark suit.

Mrs. Bradley is a very beautiful woman and her husband is a very successful businessman. They have two children and are very happy.

Pellagra Known as Deficiency Disease.

By DR. R. S. COPELAND

IN OUR daily conversation the word "vitamin" is frequently used and most every one is "vitamin conscious."

Yet comparatively few have heard of "vitamin deficiency" diseases. There is an annoying and persistent skin affliction called "pellagra" which is now known as a vitamin deficiency disease. For many years little was known about the cause and turbance. We are indebted to the United States public health service for much excellent research work. The bureau has confirmed the suspicion that pellagra is the result of some fault in the diet, with the lack of necessary vitamins in the food.

Many physicians doubted the early reports of this extensive work. Since the disease usually involves the skin, they believed it could be traced to some disorder of that structure and not to the food. Today it is universally accepted as a disease due to the eating of improper food.

Many believe that pellagra is a poor man's disease. This is not true. It is not caused by lack of food, but by eating the wrong kind of food. It may occur in persons who avoid eating certain necessary foods, because of their efforts to reduce. It may be the result of some disorder where proper digestion of the necessary foods is disturbed.

There are other vitamin-deficiency diseases. When the diet is lacking in vitamin B, "beriberi" occurs. If vitamin B is deficient, we have a disease called "beriberi." Pellagra, however, is caused by a lack of vitamin G. Fortunately this particular vitamin is abundant in a variety of foods and you can be assured of receiving your required amounts if you partake of a well-balanced diet.

Vitamin G is found in fresh lean meats, liver, milk, canned salmon and wheat germ. It is also found in eggs, beans, peas, canned spinach and canned string beans. Corn products, wheat and rye flour, oatmeal, salt pork, lard, carrots and rice contain small quantities of this valuable vitamin.

At I have said, pellagra need not be feared if the diet is varied and well balanced. No vitamin deficiency disease can occur where the necessary measures are taken to insure a diet that includes meats, vegetables, fruits, wheat products and milk. Bear in mind that a diet low in proteins and one that contains few vegetables and fresh fruits is likely to lead to a vitamin-deficiency disorder.

At one time pellagra was a common affliction among farmers in certain districts of the country. During the winter months they lived on a diet consisting essentially of molasses and corn bread. Fortunately the danger of such a diet is now well known and I am glad to say that pellagra is not as common as in former years.

Gold Trinkets, 2000 Years Old, Stolen

London, Oct. 13.—Scotland Yard has been called in to solve the mystery of a robbery in the Roman Museum in South London, where the thieves, who entered as ordinary visitors, made a haul of ancient gold trinkets, nuggets and rings, some of which were 2000 years old.

FRUIT AND CHEESE OMELET

Make a plain omelet, and just before you fold it add a liberal amount of apricot jam or puree and cover with grated cheese. Fold omelet, sprinkle more cheese on it and place under the broiler flame for a minute or two. This makes a grand supper dish with rolls, a salad and coffee. Shredded pineapple is delicious also in this kind of an omelet, or orange marmalade with cheese is surprisingly good also.

Charming for the Heavier Figure

By MARIAN MARTIN

Dressing in good taste is not merely a matter of any frock—but choosing one that will do the most for you. If you are heavier than average this model will graciously flatter your figure, slenderize the hips and subtly reflect charm through careful choice of fabric and color. Here is a neckline that is becoming, sleeves modified, and a straight silhouette created by the unbelted waistline.

Pattern 9794 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24 and 26. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards 19 inch fabric, 1/2 yard contrasting and 4 1/2 yards 6 inch lace.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

The Winter edition of the Marian Martin pattern book shows all the new style highlights. This book will guide you to a distinctive wardrobe at little cost. Send for it today. Price of pattern book, fifteen cents, book and pattern together, twenty cents.

U. S. United Nationally, Divided in Tastes

By MARTHA LEE

From Martha Lee's Friday Morning Breakfast Over Station WAAE

ONLY THIS MORNING I read that "These fair United States are not a Union, but sections," and I wonder if it is true. I consider our food habits, and I wonder if there is certainly no union in our national tastes.

While the Easterner swallows his bran flakes and the Southerner munches his hot biscuits, the Westerner will be amply satisfied with a steak and eggs, and the New Englander will be eating down his beans and brown bread.

Faster Relief Now From Neuritis

Real BAYER Aspirin "Takes Hold" of Pain in Few Minutes

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia... the fastest relief, it is said; get discovered.

These results are due to a scientific discovery by which a Bayer Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

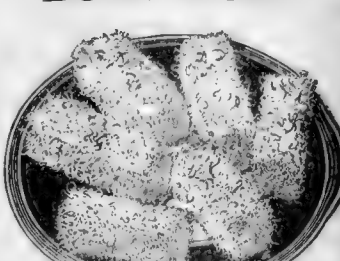

The illustration of the man here, the story, a Bayer Tablet starts to disintegrate as he swallows it and swallows it. And this is proof to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, see that you get the Genuine Bayer Aspirin for Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always say "Bayer Aspirin."

WHY BAYER ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST
Drop a Bayer Tablet in a glass of water. Look at it before it has time to do anything but dissolve.

WHAT? CAKE from Bond Bread?

COCOANUT STRIPS
Recipe of
Mrs. Frances Northcross
1 cup bread, 1 cup milk, remove crusts and set in paper cups. This test is sweetened condensed milk, then is sweetened condensed milk and milk in moderate oven 150° F. 2 minutes or until just brown.

"Certainly...in these jiffy Coconut Strips" said Mrs. Frances Northcross at the Boston American Cooking School

"Cake from bread sounds startling, but Bond Bread is full of grand surprises. For the life of me, I can't see why women buy ordinary bread when they can get Bond—not only because of the delicious flavor of the bread itself, but because of the endless variety of other tempting dishes you can make with it."

Lecturers and housewives alike are Bond Bread boosters. For women actually helped to make it—43,040 of them. As a consequence, Bond is more compact, more full of substance. No wasteful crumbling, no costly air-holes. Never puff, spongy. It rises only to the flavor peak—to make it look and taste and cut like the finest home-made bread.

Sunshine vitamin-D—scarcest of all the health-protecting vitamins—helps build and preserve good sound teeth and body frame. It is not injured by heat—therefore is just as effective when toasted, baked or cooked in Bond Bread recipes as in a fresh slice of Bond. For your free copy of the Bond recipe book, write Mary Stone, Suite 999, General Baking Company, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City, or ask your grocer.

Why not order Bond today? It's fresh twice daily at your grocer's.

WILL ROGERS AS RURAL 'DR. BULL' CATCHES N. E. SPIRIT

Lariat Artist Is Film Hero as Doctor

By HARLEIGH SCHULTZ
Choo-choo! The train comes in. And chug-chug, the train goes out! Queer, isn't it, that of all things that are under the sun, an old-fashioned engine, the kind with the cow-catcher on front and the tender behind, makes the best camera subject, hauling its string of coaches. Currently, on the Paramount-Fenway screens, in between trains, is enacted a story that most nearly of all talks best captures life in a New England small town.

The train comes into a little Connecticut town, dropping its bag of mail, but no passengers. The front is in the air, the snow upon the ground. Crisply the locomotive catches the spirit of the town and the interloper Will Rogers has a chance to show his understanding of the adventures, medical and otherwise, of Dr. Bull, country physician to a whole county in the good people of the community.

The narrative is basically the James Gould Coxsey novel, "The Last Adam." Dr. Rogers, who once used the forces on engine as a Ziegfeld star, is now doing out color oil, pills, and even a serum of his own invention. He sits in at the birth of a child, and runs off to minister to a dying man. Everything he does is accomplished with a sure-fire touch in writing the laughter and sugar the theme with healthy sentimental bits of philosophy or art.

In other words, this is a typical Will Rogers picture. The tale rambles and staves hitched to no point, unless it be that the central character, a lovable fellow, living his life as a doctor, is a widow but strapping up a storm of protest among the narrow-minded by his wrong and his odd habits.

The various roles are quite convincingly taken. Marion Nixon, an engaging chip named Howard Lilly, whose rescue from paralysis sets the whole town talking; Louise Denver, Ralph Morgan, and Vera Allen are some of the players. But the real hero is Director John Ford. Most decidedly, he makes a brilliant comedy portrait of a small New England village and its people.

No more faithful picture of the kind has appeared in sound. With the train chugging out of town, "Dr. Bull" has gotten under the skin as deeply that we regret this is the last.

The complete picture is an outstanding Hollywood gem of romance under a tropic moon with love and romance in a state. R. L. Stinson, Bowdoin, through the head make-believe channels, the melodrama runs in the country. Paying ending it rates as lukewarm fare.

SCHOOL GRID TITLE CONTENDERS IN PERIL TOMORROW

HAVERHILL IS INVADER AT CLASSICAL

By BILL CONNELL
Football title hopes, burning in several schools today, will be quenched tomorrow afternoon when crown contenders due to trip in the weekend struggle.

Haverhill at Lynn Classical, Arlington at Fitchburg, Everett at Newton, Revere at Waltham, and Lexington at Belmont, send powerful eleven into action. The results of these duels will do much to iron out the bronze situation.

Haverhill, fresh from a triumph over Malden high, marches to Lynn Stadium to tackle one of the best teams Bill Jones has followed during a distinguished career as coach at the school.

Haverhill is unbeaten but was red by Rindge while Everett has a perfect record. The one-quarter backing of Boston, C. C. of Everett may give that team a night margin.

Liberal Arlington gets its hard test at the year at Fitchburg where the home team is out for revenge because of last year's upset. The Arlington backfield of Jones, McLean, Wallace and Madden will give the Arlington squad another victory provided the line holds up under the heavy going.

Everett, however, just after the day of Salem is in no danger than most of its A. B. team, even when it goes to Newton. Everett's eleven is unbeaten. Everett's Ralph Benham has been a strong team and a big job is before them at all its games will be.

Revere, one of the most surprising eleven of the season, heads for Waltham which is unbeaten and united. The Brockton boys have flustered, but their chances at Waltham are hurt a lot by the loss of star tackle Sam Robinson, who sustained an injury while the other day.

Lexington will give unbeaten Belmont its first big trial. Belmont is minus much of its championship winning strength of 1932, yet has been improving, and it is quite past this barrier will be decided all the way.

Takes Brown - Vet's Place

Promoted to the varsity A team in the big shakeup at Brown was Ted Eichings of Malden. Ted will start at left tackle tomorrow against Springfield at Alumni Field, Providence. Ted started the season as a tackle, later was shifted to the end squad, and now is carrying on splendidly at his old love. Ted displaced none other than Larry Brown this week. Brown was considered one of the mainstays of the 1932 team.

BROWN IS SET FOR GYMNASTS TOMORROW

Providence, Oct. 13.—Brown's varsity eleven, which took the field today for its final drill before the Springfield game here tomorrow, showed four changes from the team which opened against Rhode Island State last week. Ted Eichings of Malden, Mass., had replaced the veteran Larry Brown at left tackle.

Charles Summerfield had replaced Maury Catto at left end, Mickey Walker had replaced Kavanah at fullback, and Duten Lear had replaced Allen at right halfback.

These changes, which took place during the last of the scrimmage on the field, were made at the expense of veterans. McLaughlin, who was injured last week, was out today.

The changes, however, were not made against the veterans who sailed through the 1932 season with great success, but lulled into a false sense of security.

The changes, however, were not made against the veterans who sailed through the 1932 season with great success, but lulled into a false sense of security.

Walker, the Andover, Mass., boy, is making great progress here, and critics are proclaiming him the best prospect since Fritz Polard of previous fame. Walker runs hard and is the best punter on the squad.

Eichings, who replaces Brown at left tackle, was shifted to the end squad earlier in the week, but is now back in his favorite position.

Lear, a former guard, will be used as a blocking back.

Another interesting item in the day's news was the return to action of Don Fend, center, from a past two weeks with blood poisoning.

The team will line up against Springfield in the motor, Towle and Summerfield, ends; Butler and Eichings, tackles; Catto and Patton, guards; Batcher, center; Rummage, qb; Lear, lb; Hart, rbi; Wagon, lb.

Passes, Punts and Fumbles

About 15,000 football fans attempted to buy tickets for the Boston College-Centre game yesterday afternoon at the gate. Naturally, there were delays, for it is an impossibility to dispose of that number of tickets in a half hour.

After their holiday experience, Eagles' enthusiasts will purchase their tickets in advance and take the gamble on the weather instead of allowing the Health authorities to run all the risks.

Although more than 17,000 witnessed yesterday's game, there was an advance sale of only 1,000. Moreover, the crowd will take the game at almost field and, of course, they all wanted to be admitted without delay.

The Eagles have a football attraction this season, and this statement goes, regardless of the outcome of the Fordham game. It will be to the advantage of all B. C. followers to buy their tickets in advance. Give the B. C. a little more help up to the line of scrimmage. Headers might have shaken himself long for something to do in the game.

After the 1932 close and hard but clearly fought encounter between Boston and Centre colleges, we'll predict now that if the Eagles and the Flying Colossus meet on Arm's Day next, they will play to a capacity house.

Rev. Francis Sullivan, R. J., the new director of athletics at B. C., is responsible for the new spirit now being displayed by the underdog college body at the Heights and if the alumni falls into line, Boston College is on its way up the ladder.

Flavio Tool is one of the best ends in the east. Tool is a best student of the game and one of the hardest workers on Joe McKenney's squad.

Bill Cowell, head coach and athletic director at the University of New Hampshire, was one of the interested spectators at the game yesterday afternoon. In a college and New Hampshire will play home and home games at Dartmouth in 1934.

GIANTS' SALE IS DARTMOUTH

ABOUT DUE LAST DRILL

New York, Oct. 13 (U.S.)—The New York Giants, champions of the baseball world, will not only be sold as state reserves, but the International News Service several weeks ago, but the sale is not to be consummated within two weeks.

One of three giant players in the purchase of the club's accounts working on the club's books this week.

Another is two of those players who actually had a month bought last April, when one of the three died as they were about to sign the papers. The survivors are trying to find a third friend to take their dead partner's place.

The third player, a pitcher, is Jack W. who was once the star shortstop of a team.

The best of the three is 21 per cent of the stock of the club is Whitney's $1,000,000.

The death of the player, who was a star pitcher, and the loss of the stock of the club, was a very simple as compared with the complicated transactions of the other two.

now

It is our desire to co-operate fully with the N. R. A. program, in the way that will best benefit all concerned. We know you are being offered "bargains" on every hand to tempt your patronage. But don't let mere price tags deceive you. It's no trick to buy odds and ends, mark them up, and then mark them down again. All day long, every week, the Blue Eagle flies over Kennedy's. We strive to conform to the spirit as well as the letter of the law. Prices are based on what we actually paid last summer, not on today's higher replacement prices. So we say to you: You will save money if you buy now. You will do your country a real service. You will do yourself a favor, too. We openly ask you to compare the true value of clothing offered elsewhere with what we can still give you while present stocks last, for this moderate price,

Smokers say:

"IT'S EVEN BETTER THAN ITS GUARANTEE"

When we reduced Bayuk "Phillies" in price—from 10c to 5c—we guaranteed that it was the same fine cigar as when it was the most popular 10c value in America. We meant—and still mean—just that!

Smokers now tell us that Bayuk "Phillies" is an even better cigar than we guaranteed. Men who can well afford to pay double or triple the price, say that no cigar—regardless of price—gives them the complete pleasure and satisfaction they get from Bayuk "Phillies"—at 5c.

We do know that Bayuk "Phillies" is the cigar that most smokers like best. Sales prove it. In nine months—at 5c—it has become the largest-selling cigar in America, at any price.

When you try a Bayuk "Phillies"—remember this. It is not a 5c cigar. It is a proven 10c cigar value now selling for 5c. This makes a vast difference in what you can expect. There's a fresh box on your dealer's counter.

Bayuk's Guarantee
In 1929—a peak sales year—the Bayuk Philadelphia Perfecto (Familiarly known as "Philadelphia Hand-made") was the largest-selling 10-cent brand in America.

Bayuk guarantees that this cigar today—at 5 cents—contains the same fine Imported Sumatra wrapper—the same fine ripe Havana and Domestic long-filler. It's the same identical cigar.

AT all, the nation's bankers have not shown themselves very enthusiastic about the Administration's plan for them to loosen up credit in a big way. In fact, the general feeling among these cautious gentlemen has been that they are not willing to try anything twice.

"TIME MARCHES ON"

The Barton county teachers had their annual meeting in Lamar Wednesday. The school ma'am's assembled at the gym. There was quite a sprinkling of new teachers. Nearly all of these latter girls had bobbed hair. The older women stuck to their braid. It was an interesting study as one looked over the crowd of women who will teach the Barton county kids the next year. As Edg. Brown was making a learned talk to the teachers on history and civics, we took stock of the heads with bobbed hair and observed about one-third had the short, hair. You could stand in the back of the hall and pick out the young ones by the looks of their hair.

FRISBY WALLOPS NAIL ON THE HEAD

Washington—Congressman Horace Frisby has hitched up his suspenders, rolled up his sleeves and doubled his fists in a determined effort to help Secretary Wallace reduce crops.

"If we can cut the crops to practically nothing," says Frisby, "with a snap, it will raise prices. Then the farmer will pay more for commodities that they are worth and everything will be hooted, economically speaking. I have a little plan which I propose to whisper into the ear of the Secretary of Agriculture the very first time he greets me with open arms, and not until. The Greater Frisby Plan is to suddenly remove that grand old practice of permitting Congressmen to send out what seems to be free seeds. But instead of seeds, the envelopes will merely contain sawdust and ground glass."

Boys: Gene, please, the kitchen cynic: "A practical business man is a guy who knows on which side his bread is buttered—and proves it by putting his foot in it."
